

JULY COURT.

BY ASA BEAN, LIVE STOCK EDITOR.

ABOUT 200 cattle on the market. Quality was better than last court. Trade was very dull; the dry weather seemed to knock all life out of it.

The best 800 pound steers sold at 4 3/4¢, but most of sales were at 4 to 4 1/2¢; heifers 3 1/2 to 4¢; cows 3 to 3 1/2¢; bulls 3¢; canners 1 1/2¢ to 2¢.

There was only a medium crowd present, and a good many cattle left over unused.

There was fully 2,500 sheep on the market. Trade was some better than last in cattle, but was not brisk by a good deal. The best ewes brought $1.25 per head, peaking. Most of sales at $1.50 to $4 per head; wethers at 3 1/2 to 3 3/4¢; 60 lb lambs at 1 1/2¢; bucks at 1 1/2¢ to 2¢. A good many sales made, but quite a number of sheep were left over unused.

CATTLE SALES.

It was very hard to get sales and have only a few to report.

J. D. Reid bought 10,800 lb. steers of Green Allen at 4 3/4¢. These were picked 2-year-olds.

Humphrey Oldham sold 20,900 lb heifers to Greene & Lyman at $3.65 and a premium.

H. S. Caywood, of Bourbon county, bought a bunch of 950 lb steers of W. W. Rector at 4 1/2¢.

John Crouch, of Bath county, bought some rough 1000 lb steers of Dave Riserer at $1.20. Mr. Crouch bought about a car load of causers at from $1.25 to $2.

N. B. Lyons sold 12,700 lb heifers to Dave May, of Bourbon county, at 2 3/4¢.

A good many other sales at about these prices.

SHEEP SALES.

J. W. Chenault bought 25 nice ewes at $4.25.

Cap Gillispie bought 100 98 lb bucks of L. C. Baye at 1 1/2¢.

O. H. Downing sold H. C. Gillispie 100 103 lb wethers at 3 3/4¢. These were contracted for last Court. Same party sold 42 ewes at $4 to Mr. Gillispie.

Greene & Lyman bought a bunch of 68 lb lambs of G. H. Downing at 4 1/2¢. Mr. Downing sold 100 ewes to Dave May, of Bourbon county, at $3.60 per head. John Baye sold 100 to Dave May at $3.40.

Green Allen sold 200 ewes to Robt. Gatewood at $4 per head.

HORSES AND MULES.

Very few mules on the market. One pair brought $25.

M. Beard, of Lexington, bought 15 at from $50 to $125.

Horses dull and very little doing. Some sales at from $50 to $100; the latter price for some pretty fair horses.

No fine horses on the market.

Do You Mean Joe Davis?

Montgomery county will likely have a candidate for the only man comes at the Winchester Fair. If the particular man whom we have in mind enters this race, he has a dead clutch on the prize offered."

Winchester Democrat.

The Winchester Democrat man does not say who he refers to as the "ugly man" from Montgomery, and as such man seems to point to me as being the man in the story. Thus, I feel it devolves upon me to make some kind of defense before entering said ring to said prize. A friend of mine said to me yesterday: "If I were in your place I would not go into the ring unless those Winchester folks would agree to let John Garner, Steve Swift and Democrat editor out. Because if they enter you don't stand the shadow of a chance to win that chair." I will admit that Mr. Garner and the editor would be pretty strong rivals and it is possible that other fellow would hustle me some. But if those folks will permit me to bring a right and left bowler from this county I deny them to beat the trio for lack of beauty anywhere in this state. I was born ugly and sassy and blessed the Lord I still possess those two qualities, and expect to own them as long as I live. They are all the fortune I now possess, and it is through the influence of these two quidnuncious "bachelor maid" of from forty to fifty summers duration to keep the word Miss off her tombstone by subduing "Mrs. Joe Davis." As Winchester has the honor of possessing more "bachelor maid" than any other village of its population in Kentucky and it is the editor of the Democrat will insure me to find out at said fair that is rich enough to support both of us, and will sign a contract to that effect on one that is plucky enough to do so, and will seal the contract with a horse-dewed kiss. I will enter my name alone, without these bowsers, and permit the mayor, the editor and that other fellow to do likewise. And should I fail to win the chair I will have the consolation of knowing I had advertised myself as a matrimonial candidate in a community where "ungathered roses" were plentiful.

LUCK SKILLET, KY.

Mr. Editor of the Advocate how is the political machine getting along down in the settlement. We folks up here hardly ever hear from you down in the blue grass, once and awhile we get to see a fellow from down there but not often. Me and my old woman was going a cross fox mountain the other day and we saw a gentleman whom we took to be a town man from some part of the settlement we stopped and had a little talk with him, he had on star cloths all he had a .32 rifle with him, the old woman tackled him for a quid of tobacco and he drew out a big bag of flat tobacco, then we knew he must be from some place or another. Jane, that's the old woman's name she came from him for short, save after we parted from the man I believe that

SUMMER COON.

In Memory of Howard Wilson.

Howard Wilson, whose death on July 8 we noticed last week, was born near Ilion, Greene County, 1853.

His first marriage was to Mrs. Connor, of Micoon, who bore him one child, Mrs. Ester, who is still living, residing with her son, John. In May 1887 his second marriage occurred to Miss Lizzie Tipton, of this county, who, with her son, Tipton, mourns his death.

Howard Wilson was energetic, honest, kind and devoted to his friends. In politics he was an ardent Repubican, ever loyal and ready to do his duty.

In the discharge of his official duty as a U. S. Deputy Marshal, he was brave and courageous, perhaps not so cautious as he should have been.

He is a cousin of our junior editor, B. W. Trimble.

His funeral service on Tuesday was very largely attended.

Rev. Robertson and Clark spoke in highest terms of civil officers, who in the protection of lives of their fellow men and the preservation of the peace of the community, sacrifice their own lives.

A host of friends join with us in sympathy with the family so afflicted by his death.

PENALTY

Asked For From Tobacco Ware housemen.

Louisville last week nine shillings per pound of tobacco fined suits against warehousemen to recover the penalties fixed for the violation of the McLean law prohibiting the making of cigarette charges.

It is claimed that the defendant is failed on divers occasions to account to the plaintiff for the full weight of the tobacco sold, keeping for themselves the sample of ten pounds. Various other violations of the statutes against illegal charges are alleged.

Kentucky Taxes Will Be Reduced.

The State Board of Equalization filed its report with the Auditor. Grand total assessed value of all property subject to equalization is $747,867,964. While this is an increase of about $10,000,000 over the assessment of last year, the amount of tax to be realized will be $225,000 less than last year, owing to the decrease of the tax rate from 5½ to 4½ cents, besides which the assessment of shares of stock of National banks also falls short, knocking the State Treasury out of about $100,000. The report shows that there was raised in the State last year upward of $120,000 acres of corn.

Valuable Farm Sold.

C. J. Bronston, of Lexington, has bought Kingston Stock Farm, situated about two miles from that place, for $30,000. The farm contains 208 acres and is one of the best in Kentucky.

TOO MUCH PORK NOT ENOUGH FAT.

Without doubt the fat in pork is about as hard to digest as anything else. A person has to have a strong digestion and must be engaged in hard work in order to take care of this food, although it is true a large number of persons depend upon it especially through the cold weather. The fact is, however, that as a rule it is largely deficient in our food; and it is only a few, and the few of the D-omocratic press, once more to be in line with the party."

Special Elections.

Gov. Beckham on Monday issued proclamation calling for special elections on Monday, August 6, to fill legislative vacancies in the Campbell, the Boone-Gallatin-Owen, and the Henderson-Union Senatorial districts, and the Woodford representative district. Special registration is ordered in the cities of Newport, Bellevue, Dayton, and Henderson on Tuesday, July 31.

Notifications.

Two ratification meetings were held at Lincoln, Neb., on last Tuesday, one by the Populists and Silver Republicans and one by the Democrats. Mr. Bryan spoke at both meetings and the other speakers were Charles A. Towne, Gen. Weaver, Congressman Shadroll, "Cyclone" Davis and Webster Davis.

Will Nominate at Lexington.

The Democratic Committee of the Eleventh district met at Corbin and decided to hold a convention at Lexington July 18, the day before the State Convention, to nominate a candidate for Governor.

The Kentucky Social Labor party nominated James Davis, of Louisville, for Governor.

The Downfall of a Snob.
This dispatch is interesting reading:

"London, July 11.—William Waldorf Astor's sudden departure for Germany at the very height of the season, the canceling of all his engagements here and the recall of the invitations which he had issued for house parties on next Sunday and on next Sunday week at Cliveden are universally regarded as signifying the close of his social career in London. It is openly declared here that the Prince of Wales, who is the supreme arbitrator of English society, has cut him in consequence of his insulting treatment of Sir Capt. Archibald Milne last week, and London is only to ready to take it in the master from its future King, as Mr. Astor, in spite of his wealth and magnificence of his entertainments, has made many enemies by his extraordinary arrogance."

This being true the social career of Astor is ended; and his social career being ended, there is little left for this ineffable snob to live for.

He left his own country and brought his way into English society because, he said, we have no "gentlemen" in America. That the British stood him as long as they did shows that he found people among them who answered to his conception of a gentleman.

The Milne incident well illustrates that conception.

Astor gave a concert, Capt. Milne being a guest of a lady who was invited to the concert, accompanied her, at her suggestion. This is said to be a usage of English society. In some form it is the usage of all society. Here an invitation would have been asked for the guest whom one wished to take to the concert. This is a custom which is sometimes abused, but it is nevertheless a custom sanctioned by good society. But when Astor saw Milne he went up to the Captain, demanded to know who he was, and ordered him to leave, notwithstanding the Captain's apologies and offer to retire. Not content with this, Astor further showed his conception of a gentleman by going to his newspaper and inserting a card therein announcing that Capt. Milne was present at the concert without invitation.

This act, probably more than anything else in Astor's career, proves how lacking in the first elements of a gentleman he is. Even if Milne had grossly violated the laws of society no gentleman would have taken the course that Astor did. When one man in his relations to another shows that he is no gentleman that is the time when the other, if he is a gentleman, sees it.

Astor's conduct on this occasion alone fully warrants those who prefer the company of gentlemen in cutting him from their list of associates. It would have been strange if they had put up with him after that. Long ago Wales declared "that man Astor makes me tired," but that man Astor's money kept him until after the Milne affair. Since then the Princess of Wales has invited Milne to sit in her box at the opera, while the Queen gave a garden party to which she invited Milne, but struck Astor's name from the list. The snub by the Prince of Wales is the coup de grace—fate which the true gentleman would neither desire nor mind if received, but which to Astor is the most terrible that can befall him.

Gov. Benton McMillin has issued a letter to the Democrats of Tennessee, withdrawing from the race for United States Senator. He says his withdrawal is in the interest of party harmony.

THE NEW YORK WORLD,
THREE-A-WEEK EDITION.

Almost A Daily.—At the Price of a Weekly.

The most widely circulated "weekly" newspaper in America is the Three-a-Week edition of the New York World, and with the Presidential campaign now at hand you can do without it. Here are some of the reasons why it is the leader in dollar a year journalism.

It is issued every other day, and is all purposes a daily.

Every week each subscriber receives 18 pages and during the "busy" season 24 pages each week.

The price is only $1.00 per year. It is virtually a daily at the price of a weekly.

Its news covers every known part of the world. No weekly newspaper could stand alone and furnish such service.

The Three-a-Week World has at its disposal all of the resources of the greatest newspaper in existence—the wonder of modern journalism—"America's Greatest Newspaper"—it is as it has been justly termed—the New York World.

Its political news is absolutely impartial. This fact will be of especial value in the Presidential campaign coming on.

The best of current fiction is found in its columns.

These are only some of the reasons; there are others. Read it and see them all.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and THE ADVOCATE together one year for $1.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.

BRAVE TO THE END

How Frank Welch, a Lexington

Soldier, Died.

HIS LAST REQUEST.

[From Lexington Leader.]

The following letter received from the Philippines relating how Private B. Frank Welch, of this city, was killed, while in battle will be interesting to many friends here. Young Welch is a son of Mrs. Carrie Welch, of this city, and was killed in battle last April and his heroism in the face of death is graphically told by the Captain of his company in this letter below:

HIS LAST WORDS.

Co. L, 40th Inf., U. S. V., Cagayan, Mindanao, P. I., April 9, 1900.
Mrs. Carrie Welch, Lexington, Ky.

My Dear Madame:—It becomes my duty to inform you of the death of Benjamin F. Welch, private Company L, Fortified Infantry, United States Volunteers, which occurred at 4 p.m. today, resulting from a wound received in an action at this place in the early morning of April 7. Private Welch was one of twenty men whom I took with me to drive the enemy away from the Colonel's quarters. We came around a corner and were within 100 feet of the enemy when we opened fire. They were flying away at us as fast as they could. The fire from the 20 men cleared them out in about two minutes. Many of those who got away were wounded and 16 were left dead in a pile. Two of my men had been wounded and Private Welch was one of them. As I walked back toward the Colonel's quarters I saw him and went to him. He was sitting up and as I came up he said, "Captain I have been shot." He was as cool as any one in the command. He had been hit by a Minie bullet which had passed through the lower part of his abdomen. I knew the wound was probably fatal, but I tried to cheer him up. The corporal of his squad told me that while the fighting was going on Private Welch touched his arm and said, "Corporal I'm shot." The corporal replied: "Lie down by the fence." Private Welch was found where his corporal had ordered him to go when the fight was over.

This afternoon the surgeon sent for me and told me he feared peritonitis and believed it would be best to operate. Everything indicated approaching sigmoiditis and I agreed to the operation; Private Welch had already agreed to it. I went in and sat on the couch beside your son. He was suffering great pain. I told him I thought best to operate. He said he thought so too. I knew he could not live and I believe he knew it too, but I could not give up the one lingering chance and talk him of death. To tell him I was going to write to his folks, and he said, "Make the letter as good as you can." Captain I just make the letter as good as you can. I am ready for the operation." He was brave to the last.

The operation showed that acute peritonitis had already set in. He died in the operation, but would have died in a few hours anyway and in great pain if he had been left alone. His remains were interred in the Plaza in front of the quarters, and will in time be taken up and sent to you.

I am mailing the deceased's effects to you and you will please sign the owner's receipt for them and send them to me. I send his final statement to the War Department and you will get what money is coming to him by applying to the Auditor for the War Department, Washington, D. C., and establishing the fact that you are his legal heir.

Begging you to accept my sincere sympathy, I am,

Very truly yours,

JAMES J. MAYS,

Capt. 40th Inf., U. S. V.

Gone.

Mr. S. S. Galtwick failed to answer dinner on last Thursday and our investigation a note revealed the fact that his troubles were past endurance and that he had gone never to return.

Mr. Galtwick was Treasurer of the Mt. Sterling Investment Co., and an investigation of his books showed everything straight as a die. Mr. Galtwick is a man of unshaken character and to the public it appeared that he was as happy as he made us to be in this world. His wife is at her mother's, Mrs. E. S. Apperson's, prostrated from the shock.

Train Robbers.

Six masked men flagged an Illinois Central fast mail train at Mayfield creek bridge, about three miles south of Wickliffe, Ky., at 1:20 o'clock on last Wednesday morning. The robbers blew open the door of the express car and forced the messenger to open his safe. After robbing the safe of an amount estimated anywhere from $1,000 to $10,000, they off the engine and express car and ran to the Mississippi river, where they descended the engine and crossed over to Missouri in a skiff. A large party of tillers and detectives went in pursuit.

A Near View of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan.

By

Ford

A big man with a big mind and a big heart. This is the impression William Jennings Bryan makes on persons who are not entirely hostile to his political views. A man of ideas and of ideals. This is the tribute of those who know him well.

A great many people in this country have a personal acquaintance with Mr. Bryan. In his remarkable political career for four years ago he was a unknown, indeed, to most Americans. Now he has been on the go for the past three years. His total mileage since his first nomination would equal three times the distance around the earth. Those who have met him once know him well.

A friend of Mr. Bryan who visited him at his home recently remarked afterward:

"I have known Bryan for ten years. I have been with him in several of his campaigns and in his political life.

"He is a friend of mine. Since he has been on the go for the past three years. His total mileage since his first nomination would equal three times the distance around the earth.

J. R. Maston has returned from Smithville and Platte City, Mo. He says the crops are better in that section than for many years,

Anderson Chenuau, of Houston, Tex., is home visiting his parents.

A broom factory will be opened up in this city in the near future. Men of means and enterprise are behind the movement.

A meeting will begin at Bethel on the 5th Sunday, July 29, conducted by the pastor, and Rev. Gano Buckner, of Ennis, Texas.

A protracted meeting is in progress at Howard. With his work, Pastor Leonard is being assisted by Rev. George S. Sheppard, of Elvins, Ky.

Rev. D. G. Combs, Evangelist in Kentucky, was in our office last week returning from Elizabethburg, Madison county, where he had three baptisms. Church was greatly revived. His next meeting will be held in Grayson, Carter county.

Rev. D. W. R. Johnson preaches sermon at the union service Sunday evening. The sermon was due, however, giving time to Text. I am, Dr. G. D. Gaffin with contentment. His sermon is good.

Goddess demands a witness to God. To underlines its meaning we must know the name of God.

In studying the divine creation we see the presence of God in all creation, v. 1. The more we study and communicate. The first are expressed by such terms as "all exists, omniscience, omnipotence, etc. We cannot be like God in this respect. Those are points that must forever separate us from the finite from the infinite.

Second comes everywhere in the Bible ascribed to God and his people. They are expressed by such terms as truth, justice, mercy, holiness, love, etc.

From the foregoing we get a tangible definition of religion.

Its principles are not arbitrary but spring from the nature of God. We get the true idea of character. It is divine, omnipotent, etc. It is subject to two objections; they are defective and would offer a scale of graduation.

Nobody graduates in the school of Christ. In the perspective view of attainment there is opened up the way of eternal progression in the pursuit or attainment of which we expect to realize the greatest good.

The text teaches that godliness is gain. All are seeking gain. That is gain to a man.

The aim of godliness is apparent when we consider it in contrast distinction from worldly gain. The context says: "We brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can take nothing out. We must leave all temporal belongings behind us but our characters will abide."

How unsatisfying therefore, are worldly acquisitions; how satisfying is the character that unites us to God.

Meandering On The Farm.

A young lady from this city was recently heard to remark: It is a fond dream of mine to become a farmer's wife and meander with him down life's pathway." Not speaking from the real experience, of course, but from observation, we feel safe in saying that this is a nice thing to dream about, but when you have lived on the farm and followed this meandering business for a month or so, you will discover a big difference between the dream and reality, says one of our rural correspondents. You will find to your surprise, that meanderings, etc., are several meanderings, with which to cook dinner, and when you meander around in the wet clover looking for the cows you will have a dim perception that food dreams do not always pass out a hundred cents on the dollar, and that there are several meanderings in the farm life that are not listed in the dream catalog. Ah! girls, the meandering bullocks on the farm is the way it is cracked up to be. How many will agree with me?—Ex.

After many intricate experiments, scientists have discovered methods for obtaining all the natural daintiness, these have been combined in the proportion found in the human body and mixed with substances that build up the illegitimate organs, making a compound called Kodol Dipsopela Curc. It digests what you eat and allows all dyes to eat plenty of nourishing food while the stomach troubles are being radically cured by the medicinal agents it contains.

It is pleasant to take and will give quick relief.

DEATHS.

BALDWIN.

Robert Baldwin, clerk of the Rees House, of Winchester, died of fever on Saturday. His mother died in Madison county on Friday. Both were buried on Sunday at Red House. The father is dangerously sick.

LOCKRIDGE.

Miss Mattie, daughter of Chas. Lockridge, of Spencer, died at the house on Sunday, July 15, 1900, after a protracted sickness with consumption. The funeral service and burial were held at the home on Monday.

PAYNE.

The wife of Robert Payne, who lives near Howard's Mills, died on Sunday morning at the home of her father, Richard Green. The funeral was held at Union Church by Rev. Frank on Monday.

THE SICK.

Prof. Abner Rogers is at home on the sick list.

Mr. N. P. Tipton in his 91st year is quite feeble and the end may come any time.

Garnor, son of J. Hood Garnor, of Winchester, has had fever for three weeks, but is improving.

Public Speaking.

On Friday Frank A. Hopkins, of Floyd county, made a telling speech at the courthouse yesterday, the crowd having overheard that his friends had claimed him to be a brave, able and a true Democrat, but that he was really infallible. Democracy knows no motives. He advocated the national Republican party for deception purposes and his arraignment of the Republican party in Kentucky was strictly in line and while in no way offensive was conclusive in every point. No true man can subscribe to the resolutions adopted at Louisville which approves of the methods of W. S. Taylor during our recent trouble.

Now we are told that the resolutions adopted at Louisville are being carried out in the state, and it is now in the stage to be very seriously damaged. (Of course there are exceptions, but this is the general situation.)

WHEAT.

All is not so discouraging, for the wheat crop is the finest for years in quantity and quality. Around North Middlesex especially, we saw much wheat and the threshers are busy.

Here but a small portion of the crop has been sold. The current price this far has been 73 to 75¢ delivered on railroad. Many farmers are holding for better prices. Whether they will be rewarded or not depends on conditions which they do not control.

The highest price reported to us was a sale of 20,000 bushels at Millersburg to Mr. George W. Baird, of Mt. Sterling, at 75¢ each to be delivered July 20th. For threshing the farmer pays 10¢ per bushel, the contractor turning over everything. This is becoming more popular than the old way, when the farmer did the man doing the work, etc.

One man said paid 6¢ for having his rice threshed, which was more than for wheat. He evidently paid the old way.

On Thursday the curtain of night was shutting out the glories of sunset when the writer left the upland and descended. He called at the home of Thos. Dillon and joined the family at the supper table. Here we spent the night. That Hobson out of his pocket. Without reflecting the cost, we could 7 to 10 gallon daily for family use.

Mrs. Dillon was Miss Little, daughter of Charles Frezier. We were highly entertained.

MISS GILLISPIE.

As we stepped upon the veranda at the home of F. M. Gillispi, we were greeted by his mother. This was our first meeting. We saw that she was an aged woman, yet retaining that sparkle of eyes and strength of voice which beamed a vigorous constitution.

As we go from place to place it is a pleasure to sit at the feet of those patriarchs and learn of their lessons of wisdom or of life's glimpse of the beyond, past and future. Her name is Lucinda Ledges Gillispi. She was born in Bourbon county June 14, 1819, hence is now in her 82nd year. She has had 9 brothers and sisters. Her brother, John Gillispi, now 87 years old, lives at Cynthiana. She was married 59 years ago and has been a widow for 5 years. She has always lived in Bourbon, except for a period of 10 years. She is a member of the Christian Church. She walks readily; sews and reads without glass.

House Burned.

The home of Mr. James Walton at Salt Lick was destroyed by fire on Sunday night. Insured in Rogers' agency of this city.

An Interview With Two Aged People.

A Fine Wheat Crop—Prevailing Drought.

On Thursday at noon the writer started in a cart on a trip to Bourbon county for his health and other things. Before he left July he had talked with James Green and James Maux, the blacksmiths, who seem to be doing a thriving business in smithing, repairing and woodwork. As the farmers are now very busy we saw but few at the stores and towns on the route.

C. T. Flinders always keeps a large stock of merchandise, and from month to month offers special inducements to the trade.

THE DROUGHT.

Evidences of drought appear in the neighborhood of July and continue as far as we went, from July the thirteenth, thence by the river, thence by the 20th, etc. Arnold's to Peckin's Lick, J. B. Crouch's, W. J. Barris', Little Rock, Camp Ridge, North Middlesex and to Mt. Sterling.

In a large section of country centering in the vicinity of Plum, the drought is assuming serious phase.

"The Indian Witness" says: "The prevalence of famine in Western Indiana and in some parts of the central prairie is becoming more acute daily with each passing week. Pathetic appeals for assistance are reaching us from missionaries. A few contributions, we are glad to say, have come to hand for distribution to those who are fighting starvation and death behalf of the hungry multitudes. Apart from those to whom relief works are inaccessible, there are many infirm persons and helpless children who must inevitably perish unless private charity soon reaches them. I beg you to think of our hungry fellow-Christians, for whom other religionists will do nothing, seeing them do so little for those of their own faith. We appeal on behalf of all these classes to the Christian public, trusting God will put into the hearts of many to deny themselves, if necessary, that they may help to put bread in the mouths of famishing people and save many children from cruel fate."

While you are enjoying your healthful and nutritious repast there are multitudes of people in India who have barely enough to eat to keep soul and body together, while thousands upon thousands are dying of starvation. Many of these are members of churches our brothers and sisters in Christ. The missionaries ask us for help.

Having collected the reading take a family collection at the dinner table, and hand it to your pastor, that he may send it directly where it is needed. Pastors will call attention to the needs of these starving Christians from their pulpits, and exhort each family to take a generous offering. On the same day, they will help to relieve a large amount of suffering.

The pastors of Mt. Sterling have made a united plea for the sufferings of India and this plan has been published in all the papers. The banks have consented to act as treasurers of the fund. If a member of our families would act on the above suggestion the fund would be greatly increased. Suppose you try it?

GREAT HEART IS STILLED

Death Comes Suddenly to Judge Irvine Halsey at Battle Creek.

MRS. HALSEY IN EUROPE.

A telegram from Battle Creek, Mich., to Dr. J. W. Pryor Wednesday night contained the sad announcement of the sudden death of Judge Irvine Halsey, of this city, from an attack of heart trouble. The announcement was a terrible surprise.

Last Tuesday a week ago Judge Halsey went to Battle Creek, under the direction of his physician, Dr. Pryor, suffering from a slight attack of what threatened to develop into paralysis. His condition was not alarming in the least and as he needed a rest he decided to spend a month at Battle Creek. A letter received from him here Wednesday announced that he was doing so well that he was contemplating a return home sooner than expected.

Late Wednesday afternoon a telegram to Dr. Pryor brought the distressing intelligence that he was suffering from sudden attack of heart trouble and was thought to be dying. The later telegram confirmed this belief. No arrangement has yet been made as to when the remains will be brought home.

A peculiarly sad feature of the death of Judge Halsey lies in the fact that his devoted wife is now in Europe, whether she went with a party on June 1 to be gone three months.

Judge Halsey was in the fifty-eighth year and was known far and wide as a gentleman of exalted ideas, a citizen of the highest and purest type. He began the practice of law in the city of Memphis, Tenn., in early manhood and was elected to the judgeship of the Circuit Court in that city a few years later, being the youngest Circuit judge in that State up to that time. The yellow fever plague in that city in 1878 broke up his practice and he came to Mt. Sterling, Ky., where he was married. Few men in America were better versed in matters pertaining to the trotting horse than Judge Halsey and his natural love for that noble animal led him into the field of turf journalism in which field he has proved himself an authority and his writings since taking up this work have been printed and copied perhaps more widely than those of any other turf writer of this country. These have been combined in the portion found in the human body and with substances that build up the digestive organs, making a compound called Kodet. Diopside, Curcuma, Digesta, what you eat and allow all diabetics to eat plenty of nourishing food while the stomach troubles are being radically cured by the medical agents it contains. It is pleasant to take and will give quick relief.
